President's Message

Dear BCCSC members:

It's now officially summer and half the year is already behind us. We're off to a great start. We had our first sheep herding event of the year at Diamond Dogs in Chino, a new venue for us. Everyone had a great time, most especially our dogs as they let their inner herder loose. Mark your calendars for October 27 when we'll return to Rancho Ventosa in Palmdale. With our members spread over such a large geographic area, we make every effort to find locations that will be convenient for you to participate.

We had our Annual Meeting and Election of Officers in April. A big thank you to busy Kimberly Nicholson, former Director, and Paula Olivares, former Treasurer, as they stepped down from the Board. They generously shared their skills, time and energy to our Board, and we are the better for their service. At the same time, we are very happy to welcome Tammy Gerenser and Pam Schuman, who have stepped up to join us.

We had a very successful Specialty again in March in Bakersfield. See pages 4-11.

If you have ideas about activities that you think would be fun or interesting to do with our dogs, we'd love to hear from you. If you have a story about your Beardie (or Beardies!) to share in the next Shaggy Rag, please submit it. We can always send your story out with our eblast. This is your magazine and your comments and participation will help make it the most interesting and informative that it can be.

Members' Corner

My parents rescued a Beardie puppy, so since the day I was born I had a love for the breed. I subscribed to Dog Fancy Magazine for a year when I was growing up just to get the Bearded Collie issue. I knew one day I would have my own Beardie, so I placed that special issue in a box for safe keeping.

Many years later, after losing our second Beardie, I knew it was time to get another. I reached out to different breeders hoping their lists were not full. I talked to Kathy Pavlich and got my spot. I didn't know if I would get a boy or girl, black or brown, but it didn't matter, I would have my puppy that spring.

I got a beautiful brown girl and named her Madelyn Jo and she is amazing. After about a year, I found that issue of Dog Fancy that I put away for safe keeping. Now having my Beardie, I thought it would be fun to read the article again. While reading, I realized that not only did they interview Kathy Pavlich in the article, it was Madelyn's grandma on the front cover! I was not only destined for a Beardie, but one from Kathy. I could not be more excited to be a part of such a wonderful club of Beardie lovers!

What It's Like To Live with a Beardie

My beardie's name is Beowulf (nickname "Beowuff"). He loves my bed more than I do. Whenever I'm not in my bed, Beowulf is. When I forget to make my bed, he loves to curl up in the covers and go to sleep. Then after a while, he will go shove himself behind my mom's desk. Beowulf is almost never in-sight. I like to say that he goes into the fourth dimension through the wainscoting (like from the Canterville Ghost) because we almost never know where he is. Beowulf loves peanut butter, and I sometimes spread some in a plastic bowl for him to eat. But he not only licks the peanut butter, but he chews the bowl as well and then he asks for more.

My beardie is very rambunctious and he always pounces on toys. But he doesn't rip up his toys, just tennis balls, and sometimes bed monsters.

Because we don't have a backyard, Beowulf sits under the bench on the patio. When he wants to come back inside, instead of just walking inside, he sticks his nose in between the patio doors so that we can't close them. He does this because he doesn't actually want to come in but he wants us to come out and play with him. If we go outside on the patio, Beowulf will immediately pounce on us and bring us a toy, but the place he likes to play most is the park. All day long, Beowulf wants to go to the park. He knows that he usually goes to the park at around 4:30, but he starts to ask to go to the park at 2:00, which is a tiny bit annoying because he sits by the front door crying until it is time to go. When it is time to go, he runs around in circles and then pounces. Every dog at the park plays with Beowulf and loves to get muddy with him. Of course, as soon as Beowulf comes home, all muddy and wet, he jumps on my bed and passes out.

PUPPY DOGS 9-12

Alistair's Busy Doing Nothing (Erik): A very promising puppy who already seems an old pro in the ring. He would benefit from being moved a bit more slowly. A touch more rear than front at this growth stage but a lovely head, expression and dark pigment.

PUPPY DOGS 12-15

Starlight Midnight Express RATN (Nike): This is a really good puppy who I would expect will only get better as his ring confidence grows. Nice front and matching rear, with a great head and length of rib. He had moments of lovely movement, and you could certainly see his promise. However, he restricted his own stride to care for his handler's pace, which is a testament to his sweet disposition.

PUPPY DOGS 15-20

McCrystal Forever Timeless (Everett): What a puppy! Such lovely, long balanced strides and handled at a perfect pace for him. Plenty of reach in front and a nice driving rear with no kick. Wonderful head. Perfect proportion. Nice dark eye and pigment. Great steady temperament. Excellent shoulder and front assembly with well matched rear if I'm being picky he's a little flatter in croup, but still has good tail set and carriage. He really makes quite a picture. Expect big things from this boy. BEST IN SWEEPS

PUPPY BITCHES 15-20

Pentangle Skirts In The Dirt PT (Mae): My only proper beardedie hug in the ring. What a great temperament on this girl. Nice dark eye and a happy, welcoming, and ready for anything expression. She promises to bring her owner a lot of fun. Nice long rib and tight loin. She's nicely balanced front to rear, but her more upright shoulder doesn't allow her the free front extension that the winner had. Still a very worthy BEST OF OPPOSITE IN SWEEPS

Vets:

Veteran Bearded Collies will always be my favorites.

We are so fortunate to have a breed that gets better with age.

VETERAN BITCHES 7-10

CH Britannia Sebring Nip Nip Hooray (Willow): Such a sweet dark face and expression, I think this veteran would challenge the youngsters for enthusiasm and could likely go all day! A great showgirl, she seemed to always have her feet in the right place. She stood well on her own and covered plenty of ground on the move. Good shoulder and topline, nice proportion and well balanced on both ends. She showed her handler very well. BEST IN VET SWEEPS

GCH Pawpaw Jumpforjoy Of Audscotia (Quinn): A sweet girl with good shoulder and prosternum. Pretty face and really seemed to love being back in the ring despite the heat that was creeping up. A touch on the heavier side at the moment, but still able to move light on her feet and held her topline. Good length of rib and nice tail set and carriage on the move.

GCH Aellen Be Dazzled HSAs CGC THD (BJ): Very nice proportion on this girl, who seemed to settle in the more she moved. More upright in shoulder than the first two girls, she had good muscle tone which allowed her to hold her topline well. Pleased to see later in the catalog that this girl is a herding titled-therapy dog. Well done.

VETERAN BITCHES 12-14

CH Nonesuch Geta Risa Outa Ewe PT (Vashi): This older girl was still in very good shape, and had the best prosternum on the day. Nice, steady movement. She covered good ground with each step, very efficient. Rock solid topline and well muscled, indicating this girl is still getting plenty of action.

Bearded Collie Club of Southern California, 18th Specialty Show Judge: Mrs Pam Douglas, New Zealand. Llanddona 31 March 2018

I would like to thank the Officers, Show Committee and Committees of the Bearded Collie Club Of Southern California for the invitation to judge their show. My thanks to my steward and show manager for their expertise. I would like to thank the exhibitors for entering a quality entry under me and I will remember this opportunity.

Some general observations on the entry exhibited. I was looking for a dog that was significantly longer than height and who could move with a free, supple, long reaching, ground covering gait. This is accomplished by a correct length of neck leading into well laid shoulders, a lovely length of back accompanied with a short strong loin, leading into well angulated hindquarters. There were some steep shoulders and short upper arms, and unnecessary kick up behind. Head proportions are very important with the correct width of back skulls. There were only a very few light eyes so there was a corresponding lack of "melting" expression so characteristic to our breed. Mouths on the whole were very good with the exception of a few exhibits with level bites. I could not ignore the obvious scissoring on some of the exhibits. Your standard is very clear. And I quote. "This is a natural and unspoiled breed." "An excessively long, silky coat or one which has been trimmed in any way must be severely penalized." And the way I judge that is if I can see scissor marks I find that offensive. Due to time constraints I only wrote critiques on the first two placings in the regular classes. Also of course Best Of Breed and Best Of Opposite Sex to Best Of Breed.

Introducing Noah from the Netherlands aka Beardiefriends Honey Bear

This handsome blue guy landed in California in February at 4 months of age and was personally delivered by his breeder, Kirsten Bunschoten. Kirsten and her good friend, Chantal, spent a fun-filled week with us and experienced California at its finest. It meant so much to her to meet us in person, get to know us and our friends and see where one of her beloved puppies was going to live. He has grown up so much these past 4 months and has settled in beautifully with his girls, Willow & Ellie. We look forward to showing Noah at our National Specialty this Fall in Sacramento and will continue our training for his pet therapy certification test later in the year. Life is certainly an adventure with 3 Beardies in the house again; they keep us young & active while bringing love, joy and happiness on a daily basis.
